To Whom It May Concern,

It's a pleasure to recommend Cliff Craven to anyone seeking a professional video producer or director.

I have worked with Cliff since 1986 as a fellow producer on a wide range of projects from complex multi-image shows to corporate and educational productions.

Recently, BCIT hired him to write and direct an instructional video for nurses in Intensive Care Units. Cliff took responsibility for all facets of the production from research to final edit. As usual, the program is high quality and the client is delighted.

He brings extensive experience, creativity and excellent communication skills to any project. I wish him well.

Sincerely,
